Principles of Basic Emergencycare 2/E Im Beebe 2004-12 Delmar, a part of Cengage Learning answers your call to help you prepare street-smart EMTs. It is critical for the EMT to be able to apply what is learned in class directly to what is done in the field. Focusing on problem-based learning (PBL) as a teaching method will help you train EMTs to be field ready when they complete their course work and certification. This Instructor's Manual gets you started by introducing you to the PBL methodology and offering strategies for incorporating cases and discussion in the classroom. Students educated with the PBL approach have a better working knowledge of EMS and should have an improved ability to problem-solve, using all available resources, while in the field. In short, they will have the necessary tools to be competent, entry-level EMTs.

Bystander CPR Anette Nord 2017-10-31 Background: It has been proved that bystander cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) saves lives; however, which training method in CPR is most instructive and whether survival is affected by the training level of the bystander have not yet been fully described. Aim: To identify the factors that may affect 7th grade students' acquisition of CPR skills during CPR training and their willingness to act, and to describe 30-day survival from out-of-hospital cardiac arrest (OHCA) after bystander CPR and the actions performed by laymen versus off-duty medically educated personnel. Methods: Studies I-III investigate a CPR training intervention given to students in 7th grade during 2013-2014. The classes were randomized to the main intervention: the mobile phone application (app) or DVD-based training. Some of the classes were randomized to one or several additional interventions: a practical test with feedback, reflection, a web course, a visit from elite athletes and automated external defibrillator (AED) training. The students' practical skills, willingness to act and knowledge of stroke symptoms, symptoms of acute myocardial infarction (AMI) and lifestyle factors were assessed directly after training and at 6 months using the Laerdal PC SkillReporting system (and entered into a modified version of the Cardiff test scoring sheet) and a questionnaire. The Cardiff test resulted in a total score of 12-48 points, and the questionnaire resulted in a total score of 0-7 points for stroke symptoms, 0-9 points for symptoms of AMI and 0-6 points on lifestyle factors. Study IV is based on retrospective data from the national quality register, the Swedish registry of cardiopulmonary resuscitation, 2010-2014. Results: A total of 1339 students were included in the CPR training intervention. The DVD-based group was superior to the app-based group in CPR skills, with a total score of 35 (SD 4.0) vs 33 (SD 4.2) points directly after training ($p < 0.001$) and 33 (SD 4.0) vs 31 (SD 4.2) points at six months ($p < 0.001$). Of the additional interventions, the practical test with feedback had the greatest influence regarding practical skills: at six months the intervention group scored 32 (SD 3.9) points and the control group (CPR only) scored 30 (SD 4.0) points ($p < 0.001$). Reflection, the web course, visits from elite athletes and AED training did not further increase the students' acquisition of practical CPR skills. The students who completed the web course Help-Brain-Heart received a higher total score for theoretical knowledge in comparison with the control group, directly after training: stroke 3.8 (SD 1.8) vs 2.7 (SD 2.0) points ($p < 0.001$); AMI 4.0 (SD 2.0) vs 2.5 (SD 2.0) points ($p < 0.001$); lifestyle factors 5.4 (SD 1.2) vs 4.5 (SD 2.0) points $p < 0.001$. Most of the students (77% at 6 months), regardless of the intervention applied, expressed that they would perform both chest compressions and ventilations in a cardiac arrest (CA) situation involving a relative. If a stranger had CA, a significantly lower proportion of students (32%; $p < 0.001$) would perform both compressions and ventilations. In this case, however, many would perform compressions only. In most cases of bystander-witnessed OHCA, CPR was performed by laymen. Off-duty health care personnel bystanders initiated CPR within 1 minute vs 2 minutes for laymen ($p < 0.0001$). Thirty-day survival was 14.7% among patients who received CPR from laymen and 17.2% ($p = 0.02$) among patients who received bystander CPR from off-duty health care personnel. Conclusions: The DVD-based method was superior to the app-based method in terms of teaching practical CPR skills to 7th grade students. Of the additional interventions, a practical test with feedback was the most efficient intervention to increase learning outcome. The additional interventions, reflection, web course, visit from elite athletes and AED did not increase CPR skills further. However, the web course Help-Brain-Heart improved the students' acquisition of theoretical knowledge regarding stroke, AMI and lifestyle factors. For OHCA, off-duty health care personnel bystanders initiated CPR earlier and 30-day survival was higher compared with laymen bystanders.

BLS PROVIDERS STUDY GUIDE 2026-2027 Apex Credential Press □

WHEN SECONDS DETERMINE SURVIVAL, CERTIFICATION DETERMINES COMPETENCE The patient collapses in front of you. No pulse. No breathing. Your colleagues look to you for leadership. This isn't the moment to second-guess compression depth or AED pad placement—it's the moment your BLS training either saves a life or becomes a painful lesson in what you should have known. Your certification isn't just a requirement. It's the difference between a survivor and a statistic. □ WHY HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONALS FAIL BLS CERTIFICATION: The exam doesn't test whether you've "seen CPR before." It tests American Heart Association protocols with precision: exact compression depth (2-2.4 inches), exact rate (100-120/min), exact ventilation ratios, exact team dynamics sequences. Most study materials teach CPR basics. They don't teach the specific differences between adult, pediatric, and infant protocols. They don't explain why compression-only CPR works for witnessed arrest but not drowning. They don't drill the exact AED sequence that appears on certification exams. Familiarity with CPR ≠ Passing the BLS exam. You need American Heart Association-aligned preparation that mirrors actual testing standards, not generic first aid overviews. Result? Experienced healthcare workers fail because they studied the wrong content. □ YOUR COMPLETE AHA-ALIGNED CERTIFICATION SOLUTION: This guide eliminates ambiguity. Every protocol matches current American Heart Association guidelines. Every practice question mirrors certification exam format. Every scenario builds the decision-making skills that separate adequate compressions from life-saving resuscitation. What You Get: □ 1000+ AHA-Format Practice Questions – Adult, pediatric, infant scenarios with exact protocol answers □ 5 Full-Length Practice Exams – Complete certification test simulations □ High-Quality CPR Technique Mastery – Depth, rate, recoil, hand placement perfected □ AED Protocol Training – Pad placement, rhythm analysis, shock delivery, safety protocols □ Airway Management Complete – Head-tilt-chin-lift, jaw thrust, bag-mask ventilation, choking relief □ Team Dynamics & Communication – Closed-loop communication, role assignment, compressor rotation □ Chain of Survival Framework – Recognition, activation, CPR, defibrillation, advanced care, recovery □ Age-Specific Protocols – Adult vs. child vs. infant: compressions, ventilations, ratios, techniques □ CRITICAL TOPICS COVERED: □ Recognition & Assessment – Unresponsiveness, pulse checks, agonal breathing, cardiac vs. respiratory arrest □ Adult Resuscitation – 30:2 compression-ventilation ratio, two-rescuer CPR, compression-only CPR □ Pediatric & Infant Protocols – Two-finger vs. two-hand technique, 15:2 ratio for two rescuers □ AED Operations – Adult pads vs. pediatric pads, analyzing rhythms, safe shock delivery □ Airway Emergencies – Choking conscious vs. unconscious, foreign body removal, back blows vs. abdominal thrusts □ Special Situations – Pregnancy, opioid overdose, hypothermia, trauma, electrical injury □ Team Resuscitation – Leader roles, compressor rotation, minimizing interruptions, post-ROSC care □ WHO THIS SERVES: □ Nurses, doctors, respiratory therapists obtaining initial certification □ EMTs and paramedics renewing credentials □ Medical students required for clinical rotations □ Healthcare workers facing recertification deadlines □ Anyone who failed previously and needs focused review □ WHY BLS CERTIFICATION MATTERS: □ Employment requirement: Most healthcare jobs mandate current BLS certification □ Legal protection: Proper certification demonstrates standard of care in emergencies □ Patient safety: Quality CPR doubles survival rates in cardiac arrest □ Career advancement: Required for critical care, emergency, and leadership positions □ Professional confidence: Know you can lead a code, not just participate □ WHAT FAILURE COSTS: Failed certification = delayed employment, missed clinical rotations, or terminated contracts for non-compliance. Some facilities require certification before Day 1. Miss your deadline, and orientation gets postponed. Fail your recertification, and hospital privileges get suspended until you pass. The cost isn't just $60 to retest—it's lost shifts, delayed career progression, and professional embarrassment. □ HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONAL RESULTS: "Nursing school requires BLS before clinicals. Used this guide for 2 weeks. Passed first attempt. The infant CPR section was lifesaver—pun intended." – Ashley M., Nursing Student "I'm an ER nurse. Been doing CPR for 15 years. Still needed to study the exact AHA protocols for recertification. This guide nailed the specifics. Passed easily." – Marcus T., RN, Emergency Department "Failed first attempt because I didn't know the two-rescuer pediatric ratio. This book drilled every age-specific protocol. Second attempt was perfect score." – Dr. Jennifer L., Pediatric Resident □ BOTTOM LINE: You can review generic CPR videos and hope experience carries you. Or you can study American Heart Association protocols exactly as they appear on certification exams. This guide is your certification insurance. Work through every scenario. Master every protocol. Practice every skill. You'll walk into testing confident that you know not just CPR—but certifiable, life-saving resuscitation. GET CERTIFIED NOW: Click "Add to Cart" and prepare like lives depend on it. Because they do. Stop reviewing. Start mastering. Get certified.
