Teaching Skills for Complex Text Heidi Anne E. Mesmer 2016-12-23 This book will help elementary school teachers equip their students with practical tools and understandings of the structures and conventions that allow them to excel, including concrete tools, passages, games, lessons, and examples to teach anaphora, connectives, paragraph structure, evidence-gathering (fiction and non-fiction), and text challenge. --Back cover.

Teaching for Equity in Complex Times Jamy Stillman 2017 In schools serving high concentrations of bilingual learners, it can be especially challenging for teachers to maintain commitments to equity-minded instruction while meeting the demands of new educational policies, including national standards. This book details how one school integrated equity pedagogy into a standards-based curriculum and produced exemplary levels of achievement. As the authors illustrate, however, the school’s dual commitment to bilingual education and standards-based reform engendered numerous complex tensions. Specifically, the authors describe teachers’ attempts to balance demands for rigor and content coverage within their high-performing school and with their diverse student population. They identify specific tensions that emerged around the following issues: the degree of academic struggle that is generative for student learning and the point at which such struggle becomes counterproductive the holding of high expectations for all learners and the provision of differentiated, student-centered learning experiences the CCSS emphasis on engaging students around more complex text and the contested determination of what constitutes complexity in text and in teaching the influence of high-stakes accountability on school norms and practices, including teachers’ interpretations and enactment of new national standards the performance pressures placed on teachers in today’s educational policy context "This book offers welcome guidance on dialogical teaching to socially committed teachers and teacher educators." —Linda Valli, University of Maryland A must-read for those interested in transformative teacher learning." —Kris D. Gutiérrez, Carol Liu Professor, GSE, University of California, Berkeley

Your Curriculum Companion: Libby Woodfin 2021-02-01 This essential guide to the EL Education K-5 Language Arts Curriculum is one part roadmap to the curriculum, one part orientation to its instructional practices, and one part coach--to answer your questions, relieve your stress, and put you and your students on the path to success. Your Curriculum Companion explores the foundations of the curriculum, including the principles and research it was built on and the instructional practices that make it unique. The book is designed to help you "look under the hood" at practices embedded throughout the curriculum so that you can sharpen your instruction, support students to be leaders of their own learning, and make well-informed changes necessary to best meet your students' needs. Key features of Your Curriculum Companion include: Twenty-seven accompanying videos--see the curriculum in action

Task cards for guidance on how to plan when the planning has been done for you The why, what, and how of the K-2 Reading Foundations Skills Block A deep dive into the purpose and structure of close reading and close read-alouds, including two sample annotated lessons. An exploration of the relationship between reading and writing and how the curriculum is designed to help students become strong communicators, including an annotated "read-think-talk-write" lesson. Detailed descriptions of the ways in which English language learners and other students who may need additional support are challenged, engaged, and empowered throughout the curriculum. Guidance for turning evidence of student progress into usable data that can inform your instruction. Support for school leaders

Complexity of Typographical Cueing in Programed and Conventional Texts Wayne A. Hershberger 1963 The purpose of the present study was to examine further the findings of a previous study reported by Hershberger, 1963b. Adding self-evaluational test items to the lessons significantly increased learning for both the cued and noncued versions of the texts. The three specific hypotheses tested in the present study were: (1) Complex typographical cueing, distinguishing five categories of lesson content, demands the flexibility of reading style characteristic of only the able reader. (2) Detailed reading instructions are necessary if even the able reader is to utilize properly complex typographical cueing. (3) A simple cueing scheme distinguishing two categories of lesson content will be more effective than (a) no cueing, or (b) a complex cueing scheme distinguishing five content categories. The effects of reading ability, reading instructions, and cueing complexity were assessed using both conventional and programed texts. (Author).
