Resources, Fishing and Biology of the Tropical Tunas of the Eastern Central Atlantic Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations 1993 The tuna resources of the eastern central Atlantic have been the object of an intensive fishery for over thirty years, and have been the object of numerous studies conducted under the coordination of the International Commission for the Conservation of Atlantic Tunas. This document presents a summary of current knowledge of the biology of the principal species of tuna in the eastern tropical Atlantic, the oceanographic environment of tunas and the influence of environmental conditions on production. A detailed description of the principal fisheries of the region and the history of their development is presented as well as the methods of population dynamics used to assess the abundance of the stocks and to estimate changes in the level of their exploitation.

Nuclear Science Abstracts 1969 NSA is a comprehensive collection of international nuclear science and technology literature for the period 1948 through 1976, pre-dating the prestigious INIS database, which began in 1970. NSA existed as a printed product (Volumes 1-33) initially, created by DOE's predecessor, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). NSA includes citations to scientific and technical reports from the AEC, the U.S. Energy Research and Development Administration and its contractors, plus other agencies and international organizations, universities, and industrial and research organizations. References to books, conference proceedings, papers, patents, dissertations, engineering drawings, and journal articles from worldwide sources are also included. Abstracts and full text are provided if available.
