Advanced Environments, Tools, and Applications for Cluster Computing

Dan Grigoras 2003-08-01 Started by small group of well known scientists with the aim of sharing knowledge, experiences, and results on all aspects of cluster computing, the initiative of a workshop on cluster computing received more attention after IFIP WG 10.3 and IEEE Romania Section accepted our request for sponsorship. Moreover, the application for a NATO ARW grant was successful, leading to a greater interest in the workshop. In this respect, we have to say that we chose Romania in order to attract scientists from Central and Eastern European countries and improve the cooperation in the region, in the field of cluster computing. We had an extremely short time to organize the event, but many people joined us and enthusiastically contributed to the process. The success of the workshop is wholly due to the hard work of the organizing committee, members of the program committee, key speakers, speakers from industry, and authors of accepted papers. The workshop consisted of invited and regular paper presentations, followed by discussions, on many important current and emerging topics ranging from scheduling and load balancing to grids. The key speakers devoted their time and efforts to presenting the most interesting results of their research groups, and we all thank them for this. All papers were peer reviewed by two or three reviewers.

Advanced Computing and Analysis Techniques in Physics

Research Pushpalatha C. Bhat 2001-09-21 Over the next decade or two, an impressive array of scientific instruments at the Tevatron, RHIC (Relativistic Heavy Ion Collider) and LHC (Large Hadron collider), LIGO (Laser Interferometer Gravitational Observatory) and SDSS (Sloan Digital Sky Survey), to name a few, will usher in the most comprehensive program of study of the fundamental forces of nature and the structure of the universe. Major discoveries are anticipated. But, it is our conviction that the pace of discoveries will be severely impeded unless a concerted effort is made to deploy and employ advanced computing techniques to handle, process and analyze the unprecedented amounts of data. The workshop followed four main tracks: Artificial Intelligence (neural networks and other adaptive multivariate methods); Innovative Software Algorithms and Tools; Symbolic Problem Solving; and Very Large Scale Computing. The workshop covered applications in high energy physics, astrophysics, accelerator physics and nuclear physics. Topics included are: uses of C++ in scientific computing, large scale simulations, advanced analysis environments, worldwide computing; artificial intelligence: online application of neural networks, applications in data analysis, theoretical aspects innovative software algorithms and tools: online monitoring and controls, physics analysis and reconstruction algorithms, pattern recognition techniques, common libraries, grid and distributed computing techniques; symbolic problem solving: Feynman diagram algorithms and tools, symbolic manipulation via function objects, symbolic techniques for Feynman diagrams, multi-loop calculations and results. very large scale computing: online monitoring and controls, analysis farms and DAQ systems, grid architectures
