Maldevelopment Samir Amin 1990 With great clarity, this updated edition explains the complex changes of the late-20th and early-21st centuries, including the transformations in Eastern Europe and in the world economy, the growth of capitalism in China and--despite the West riding on the crest of new technologies--its materialist goals being increasingly questioned by new social movements including the Greens. Written by a well-known political economist, this analysis addresses problems specific to the third world, with particular emphasis on the crisis of the African continent. As it examines the failure of development from a political standpoint, this account argues that the world needs to be remade on the basis of an alternative social system that is national, popular, and based on cooperation between the countries of the southern hemisphere.

Psychology and the Challenges of Life Spencer A. Rathus 1989 "This book discusses the areas found in most psychology of adjustment textbooks, such as stress, sex roles, adult development, marriage, work, anxiety, and prejudice. But it also focuses on areas that have become of major concern to today's readers, but which are found less often in textbooks, or not at all. These innovative areas include student success ("How to Take Charge in College"), alcohol and drug abuse, rape and rape prevention, sexual dysfunctions, aging, job hunting (including using a "job finders' club"), enhancing productivity at work, career decision making, coping with sexual harassment and sexism, and having and rearing children"--

The Al-Houthi Movement in Yemen. A Social Movement Approach Sarah Ultes 2018-07-06 Bachelor

Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Sociology - War and Peace, Military, grade: 1.3, University of Tübingen (Institute of Political Science), language: English, abstract: By 2018 the United Nations referred to the conflict as the "worst man-made humanitarian crisis of our time" and simply a "stupid war":

overshadowed by the Syrian crisis, the civil war in Yemen was largely ignored by western media or simply referred to as a proxy-war between the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and Iran. However, the essay shows that the situation on the ground witnesses a much greater complexity. A major civil war-party is the so-called "al-Houthi movement" from northern Yemen. Surprisingly, the movement has transitioned from a peaceful social movement through a violent movement against President Saleh's regime, to a movement supporting the uprisings during the "Arab Spring", holding national political power and seeking seats in a coalition-government. Taking into account their major role in the country's history, presence and possibly Yemen's future setup, this paper aims to go beyond the conventional explanations. It "deorientalizes" the movement and sheds light on the Houthis as a social movement with particular aims, resources and constraints that are subject to change.

Line in the Tar Sands Joshua Kahn 2014-10-15 Tar sands "development" comes with an enormous environmental and human cost. In the tar sands of Alberta, the oil industry is using vast quantities of water and natural gas to produce synthetic crude oil, creating drastically high levels of greenhouse gas emissions and air and water pollution. But tar sands opponents—fighting a powerful international industry—are likened to terrorists, government environmental scientists are muzzled, and public hearings are concealed and rushed. Yet, despite the formidable political and economic power behind the tar sands, many opponents are actively building international networks of resistance, challenging pipeline plans while resisting threats to Indigenous sovereignty and democratic participation. Including leading voices involved in the struggle against the tar sands, A Line in the Tar Sands offers a critical analysis of the impact of the tar sands and the challenges opponents face in their efforts to organize effective resistance. Contributors include: Greg Albo, Sâkihito Win Awâsis, Toban Black, Rae Breaux, Jeremy Brecher, Linda Capato, Jesse Cardinal, Angela V. Carter, Emily Coats, Stephen D'Arcy, Yves Engler, Cherri Foytlin, Sonia Grant, Harjap Grewal, Randolph Haluza-DeLay, Ryan Katz-Rosene, Naomi Klein, Melina Laboucan-Massimo, Winona LaDuke, Crystal Lameman, Christine Leclerc, Kerry Lemon, Matt Leonard, Martin Lukacs, Tyler McCreary, Bill McKibben, Yudith Nieto, Joshua Kahn Russell, Macdonald Stainsby, Clayton Thomas-Muller, Brian Tokar, Dave Vasey, Harsha Walia, Tony Weis, Rex Weyler, Will Wooten, Jess Worth, and Lilian Yap. The editors' proceeds from this book will be donated to frontline grassroots environmental justice groups and campaigns.

Where the Evidence Leads Robert C. Johansen 2021-10-19 Where the Evidence Leads develops a new theory of "empirical realism" to enable the United States to respond more effectively to rising security threats than do present policies. It shows that more US security benefits are likely to result from maximizing the "causes" or correlates of peace than from maximizing US military power, the usual recommendation of US policymakers and "political realists." Ironically, a global grand strategy for human security, with US national security folded into it, is likely to produce more security for the United States than a national security policy pursued as an end in itself. Global human security policies can achieve sustainable peace in contexts where a national grand strategy for US security often fails.

Curriculum Practice in the Elementary and Middle School J. Allen Queen 1999 This first edition book offers very current treatment of curriculum issues, instructional planning, and new curriculum standards. The book integrates elements of the major historical, philosophical, and social influences upon past curriculum development. It compares traditional and futurist philosophies and describes the developmental aspects of children and their changing needs and interests within a framework of instructional expectations at specific grade levels. It also teaches the skills of curriculum development and instructional design. While a balanced coverage of viewpoints has been attempted, the book is intended to open new avenues by including educational futurism in a curricular model. It contains key chapter concepts, focus questions, a futurist curriculum model, actual units of instruction, and exercises for the reader to try. For educators at the elementary and middle school levels.
