Human Heredity Michael R. Cummings 1988

The Journal of Heredity 1924 The journal discusses articles on gene action, regulation, and transmission in both plant and animal species, including the genetic aspects of botany, cytogenetics and evolution, zoology, and molecular and developmental biology.

Prentice Hall Science Anthea Maton 1994

Social Welfare and Social Development Eugen Pusić 1972 No detailed description available for "Social Welfare and Social Development".

Human Biology: Genetics Craig H. Heller 1999

Studying Human Behavior Helen E. Longino 2013-01-18 In this volume, Longino enters into the complexities of human behavioural research, a domain still dominated by the age-old debate of 'nature versus nurture'. Longino focuses on how scientists study it, specifically sexual behaviour and aggression, and asks what can be known about human behaviour through empirical investigation.

Recognizable Patterns of Human Malformation David W. Smith 1976

Human Genetic Engineering United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science and Technology. Subcommittee on Investigations and Oversight 1983

Vogel and Motulsky's Human Genetics F. Vogel 1982-02

Current Developments in Anthropological Genetics James Mielke 1980-07 The papers in this volume were presented as part of the University of Kansas Department of Anthropology Distinguished Lecture Program on Anthropological Genetics. Consecutively, each contributor spent approximately a week on the campus at Lawrence participating in a seminar. The contributors to this volume were not on campus at one time, but visited us on alternating weeks; hence, a symposium-type interchange was not possible between all participants. However, the students and faculty of Kansas University acted as a sounding board.

This volume can be considered a companion and continuation of Methods and Theories of Anthropological Genetics, which was based upon a symposium on the state of the art in 1971. This present volume reflects what we consider to be some of the advances and current developments in anthropological genetics since 1973. Emphasis has shifted, to some degree, away from population structure analysis (as depicted in Crawford and Workman) to genetic epidemiology. However, population structure still remains a fertile and ongoing area of research with many theoretical questions still remaining unanswered.

Proceedings of the ... International Congress of Human Genetics 1967

Principles of Knowledge Representation and Reasoning Luigia Carlucci Aiello 1996

GMED Companion 2005

Human Biodiversity Jonathan M. Marks 2001 Are humans unique? This simple question, at the very heart of the hybrid field of biological anthropology, poses one of the false dichotomies--with a stereotypical humanist answering in the affirmative and a stereotypical scientist answering in the negative. The "study" of human biology is different from the study of the biology of other species. In the simplest terms, people's lives and welfare may depend upon it, in a sense that they may not depend on the study of other scientific subjects. Where science is used to validate ideas--four out of five scientists preferring a brand of cigarettes or toothpaste--there is a tendency to accept the judgment as authoritative without asking the kinds of questions we might ask of other citizens' pronouncements. In "Human Biodiversity," Marks has attempted to distill from a centuries-long debate what has been learned and remains to be learned about the biological differences within and among human groups. His is the first such attempt by an anthropologist in years, for genetics has undermined the fundamental assumptions of racial taxonomy. The history of those assumptions from Linnaeus to the recent past--the history of other, more useful assumptions that derive from Buffon and have reemerged to account for genetic variation--are the poles of Marks's exploration.
